GENE MASSEY

Gene Massey is a Los Angeles-based film director who has filmed a wide range of Sai service activities around the world for the Sai Organization. Gene was a cameraman in Sathya Sai Baba's Ashram from 2000-2002 and directed their first live internet broadcast in February of 2002. He has filmed Sai activities in 26 countries including Russia, Thailand, Malaysia, Australia, New Zealand, Fiji, nine in Africa and eight in Latin America. In 2013, Gene filmed over 115 hours throughout 21 states in India.

Gene has been a devotee of Sathya Sai Baba since 1980 when he began attending the Sathya Sai Baba Center of Hollywood. He has been an officebearer at the Hollywood Center for many years, and is currently the Vice President. Gene participates weekly in the center's homeless feeding project, and is also active in the region. Since 1999 Gene has been teaching an EHV-based Life Skills class at a Los Angeles County prison for teenage boys.

Gene has many interesting stories to share about the people and projects he has filmed, and the role that Swami has played in his own life.

Be sure to mark your calendars and join us in August!
